

ison - ~~Jan.~~ Feb., 1945

This is me on that bicycle I was telling you about. I was really much happier than I look here.

(If you went down that road behind
me about a half a mile at this time
you would run into some Jerrys behind a machine gun or two.)

French garrison - Feb., 1945

Some more of our carrying on while in reserve.

Standing, l. to, r. - Nichols, Harlowe, and Milby. That's Ritch in the baby carriage.

French garrison - Feb., 1945

This is the building where the C.P.
was at this time. (It was originally one of the officers' homes at the garrison, I guess.) This building about the least beat up of all.)

Nich & DeF

A group of the boys outside the building
we were staying in.

Standing - l. to r. - Ritch, Nichols, & McFadden. (Mac said he was cold and wanted to leave that hood on. He wore it all the time no matter how hot it got.) (It was pretty warm at the time.)
